VOLUME XXXIV. UKIAH CITY, MENDOCINO COUNTY, CAL., FRIDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 11, 1903. NUMBER 19

TRAGIC DEATH OF H. T. HATCH

Accidently Shot at Baker's Springs With Fatal Result

Another old and respected citizen of Ukiah has been called suddenly to the vast and unknown beyond in a tragic, and to his numerous friends, most lamentable manner. Last Saturday afternoon Mr. H. T. Hatch, of this city, was employed by W. H. Miller to take a Mr. and Mrs. Hunter, of San Francisco, to Baker's springs, a summer resort owned and conducted by T. A. Templeton, about ten miles westerly from Potter valley.

On arriving at the springs the passengers alighted from the wagon, and Mr. Hatch proceeded to unload the baggage. Standing by the side of the vehicle near the break block, Mr. Hatch reached in and picked up by the muzzle end, a 44-calibre revolver which was lying in the wagon in the scabbard. The pistol slipped from the scabbard and in falling struck the iron step attached to the break block in such a way that a cartridge was exploded. The ball struck Mr. Hatch in the groin, the powder burning his clothes, and ranged inward and slightly upward, emerging near the back bone. Dr. Hopkins, of Potter valley, was sent for, and a telephone message was sent for Dr. Stout, of Ukiah. Both responded and everything possible was done to save the life of the unfortunate man. On Sunday he was brot to his home in this city. He appeared to stand the trip very well, but at 5:55 o'clock Sunday evening he breathed his last.

Mr. Hatch was 72 years, 9 months and 13 days old, and was a native of New York. He came to California in 1861, and to Mendocino county many years ago. He finally made his home in Ukiah about 1893. About 47 years ago he married Miss Belinda Bricker and seven children were born to bless the union, four of whom, with the widow, survive. There are also six grandchildren.

The funeral took place from the family residence Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, under the auspices of Abell lodge, No. 146, F. & A. M., of which deceased was a member. Rev. W. O. Waggener conducted the religious exercises and preached the funeral sermon.

Passed to the Beyond

Henry B. Everett died at his residence, No. 2632 Manoa avenue, Berkeley, on Thursday of last week. The deceased was formerly a resident of Potter valley, where he lived with his parents when a youth and young man. Relatives of the family still reside in Potter valley.

Mr. Everett was a man of fine education, culture and intellectuality. At the time of his death he was in the custom house service in San Francisco.

He leaves to mourn him, a wife, an aged mother, a younger brother and two sisters, Misses Laura and Lizzie Everett, both of whom stand very high in the educational and literary circles of California. The DISPATCH extends sympathy to the bereaved family and relatives.

Mining in Mendocino

But little has ever been done in Mendocino county in prospecting for minerals or in developing such prospects as have been discovered. There are no doubt valuable mineral deposits in this county, which will in time be opened up to add to the general wealth. Upon this subject the Point Arena Record of the 4th instant has the following:

Among the most recent discoveries is that southeast of Gualala near the headwaters of the Rockpile creek found by John N. Lowrey.

A company known as the Black Mountain Mining company has been organized with John N. Lowrey as president. Among those interested are the following well-known gentlemen: John N. Lowrey, H. K. Taylor, W. E. Berry, O. Coast, J. E. Lowrey and O. McNeil.

Work has been begun, a fifty foot tunnel having already been made, and the main ledge is expected to be struck about twenty feet further.

A great deal of disseminate ore exists, and the assays of the copper, gold and silver made in San Francisco are most encouraging.

The company is fully equipped to thoroly prospect that section of the county, and the result will be looked forward to with interest.

The outlet at present is via Cloverdale, the mines being situated two and a half miles from C. Ledford's place, packing being done to there and thence by wagon road to Cloverdale.

FAIRBANKS WINS SUPERVISORSHIP

Last Saturday afternoon, Governor Pardee, after five months delay, appointed A. J. Fairbanks a supervisor for the 3rd district of this county, vice T. E. Long, deceased.

Mr. Fairbanks hails from Willits where he has lived for the past three years. He is a man of ability and has the elements of making a strong supervisor. He came down to Ukiah Tuesday and took his seat on the board and began to familiarize himself with the work. It is his intention to go over the district at once and look after the roads and bridges which have been so sadly neglected for the last five months.

Asylum Acquires Land

The board of managers of the Mendocino state hospital met Monday morning at the asylum, a full board being present. Besides disposing of some routine work, the board closed the deal for the Howard land on Mill creek above the institution. The price paid for this land was $5000. The board also came to an understanding by which the state is to acquire a tract of land at the source of the water supply from W. J. Hildreth for the for the sum of $2500. This land will be transferred to the state as soon as Mr. Hildreth can have an abstract prepared. By these transactions the state gets virtual control of Mill creek and its water shed, the few small tracts still in private ownership being held by men who desire to conserve the water and timber instead of destroying them.

Abstract of Fort Bragg

The Ukiah Guarantee Abstract and Title company is making out a book especially covering all the land in the city of Fort Bragg. It will give the history of all the land within the limits of Fort Bragg, from the time it was patented down to the time it was laid out as a town, and thence down to the present time. It will be a beautiful large book of 400 pages, and when completed will be placed in the hands of Weller & Weller for the convenience of property owners.

The fees collected by the county officers for the month of August and paid into the treasury were as follows: Hale McCowen, county clerk, $215.20; P. Connolly, recorder, $278.85; J. H. Smith, sheriff, $28.54. Money in treasury September 8th, $76,833.86. Twenty new civil suits were commenced in the superior court and five probate cases were filed. No criminal cases were placed on the register.

BIG LOSS BY FIRE FIEND

Warehouse Burns With a Total Loss of About $15,000

Yesterday at about 12:30 p. m. the fire alarm was sounded and the people rushed to Lucas & Paxton's warehouse, the scene of the fire.

Bona Cleveland, who lives near, first saw the fire in the driveway and rushed to put it out, but the blaze, which had started from a cigarette in the driveway, soon caught on to a bale of hay and in a few minutes the fire had encompassed the entire building.

By the time the fire company reached the spot the building was a mass of flames. It was only by heroic work that the steam laundry, bottling works and Orr & Evans' planing mill were saved. The wind was in the right direction to save the town. Had the wind changed all the eastern part of town would have gone up in smoke. The water hydrants are few and far between in that part of town and the pressure is slight, so the firemen did well to save the surrounding structures.

The losses aggregate as follows: Warehouse building, owned by Geo. McCowen, loss $3,500, insurance, $1,300. Lucas & Paxton, lessees of building, loss $3,000; no insurance. About 1500 cases of beans, belonging to Wambold, Mendenhall and the Upperlake Co., were destroyed; no insurance. Storage goods belonging to various parties, valued at $1,000; no insurance. Ben Melton lost 12 tons of oats. Twenty tons of hay, 10 tons of salt and 200 wool sacks belonging to Lucas & Paxton were destroyed. Orr & Evans, whose lumber yard adjoined the warehouse, lost between 40,000 and 50,000 feet of their best clear lumber. Their total loss is about $1,500; no insurance. Part of the depot platform was burned and also an old freight car. The loss of all parties is estimated at about $15,000.

Lucas & Paxton had just established a good business and were doing well. The loss falls heaviest upon them. Orr & Evans' loss is also deplored, as they lost so much in the fire two years ago, when their planing mill went up in smoke.

How It Comes

We have been asked several times why it is that we have two holidays so close together, Labor Day and Admission Day, with only one day intervening. We answer that it is not always so. Labor Day comes on the first Monday in September, while Admission Day is always September 9th. If September should come in on Monday, that would be Labor Day, while Admission Day would not come until Tuesday of the following week, leaving an intervening space of seven full days, instead of one as in this year.

The Grand Master of Masons of California, together with the Grand Lecturer and Grand Orator will make an official visit to Abell lodge, No. 146., F. & A. M., on the evening of the 19th inst. All members of the lodge are requested and all sojourning brethern are invited to be present.

W. K. Wilson, who was charged with altering the brand on a bull, had his preliminary examination at Willits last Friday and was discharged by Justice Kenworthy, there being no evidence connecting him with the crime.

It is claimed that a Round valley Indian named Root picked 818 pounds of hops at the Everett Holliday place in one day this season.

He was a bright young man, sixteen years old, and resided at Laytonville, this county. He was a nephew of the Wilsons and a cousin of Johnny Curts, who is attending the university at Berkeley. Young Curts brot the remains up on Wednesday's train and proceeded to Laytonville, where the funeral and interment took place yesterday.

Asylum Escape Kills Man

Last April a man named A. Garred, of Guerneville, was for the second time committed to the Ukiah insane asylum. About six weeks ago he escaped from the asylum and managed to reach Guerneville where his mother harbored him.

Last Tuesday morning the crazy man ran amuck in the streets with a rifle shooting at dogs, and finally shot and instantly killed J. W. McKinnon, a married man aged about forty years. Garred then ran up the railroad track and escaped. Garred escaped from the asylum here by breaking a door down and taking to the brush nearby. He was pursued closely but managed to elude his pursuers.

Up to noon yesterday no trace of the escape had been discovered. It is said that the man's mother bot the rifle for him. No one else in Guerneville knew he was in town. Mrs. Garred, who is charged in the same complaint with her son, is being detained in jail at Santa Rosa.

STANDLEY FOR WARDENSHIP

Doc Now on Way From Alaska in Response to Telegram

Ex-Sheriff J. M. Standley, of Mendocino county, known all over northern California as "Doc" Standley, a leader in Democratic politics, will be offered the office of warden of Folsom prison. He is hurrying home from Alaska in response to a telegram from the board of prison directors and upon his arrival will be tendered the wardenship. The directors have every reason to believe that he will accept the position.

Ever since the recent jail-break at Folsom the prison directors have been busily engaged in canvassing the available material for a successor to Warden Wilkinson. They have realized that the man to whom the conduct of the prison is to be entrusted must be one of undaunted courage, of irrevocable determination, fully able to cope with the spirit of riot and rebellion which at present exists among the convicts, who would, if necessary, prevent an escape at the cost of even his own life.

The name of J. M. Standley was recently presented to the board by Director James H. Wilkins as that of a man possessing all the desired qualifications. During his twenty years of official life as either undersheriff or sheriff of Mendocino county, Standley established a reputation for bravery that has seldom been equaled by any officer and never excelled. He was a terror to the desperadoes who infested the mountains of that locality. He has figured in the capture of some of the most desperate stage robbers, outlaws and highwaymen who ever graced a prison cell.—Examiner.

Davis-Ornbaun Wedding

At 8 o'clock last Sunday morning Rev. W. O. Waggener, of this city, pronounced the happy words which made Mr. James Edmund Davis and Miss Inez Evelyn Ornbaun, of Ornbaun valley, husband and wife. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Ornbaun, and was attended by many relatives of the contracting parties. Nearly the entire wedding party arrived at the home the previous evening to be in readiness for the morning ceremony, and were hospitably entertained over night by the bride's parents.

The household was astir betimes on Sunday morning. Miss Elaine Davis, a sister of the groom, acted as bridesmaid, while Caspar Ornbaun, a brother of the bride, was groomsman. Mrs. J. B. Davis and all the members of her family were present from Santa Rosa, as were also Misses Annie Phelan and Blanche Platt. Miss Pearl Bohnette, of Santa Clara, was also one of the guests. Soon after the interesting ceremony an elaborate and bountiful breakfast was served, after which most of those present, including the bride and groom, set out for Cloverdale where the young couple took the train for their honeymoon tour, at the conclusion of which they will make their home at Santa Rosa, where the groom is in business. The bride is one of Mendocino's most beautiful and accomplished daughters, while the groom is one of Santa Rosa's favorite young men. The DISPATCH joins in extending congratulations.

A Letter From Litchfield, Neb.

Thomas Clancy, of Litchfield, Neb. wrote us a few weeks ago about his experience with Dr. Gunn's Blood & Nerve Tonic. As his case may be similar to others it naturally would be of interest to them to know the result of his test. He had been haunted for years with a gradual growing weakness until he was reduced to almost a shadow. His complexion was sallow and pimply, had dizzy and sinking spells, with loss of memory and ambition. Always felt tired and outdone, suffered greatly with nervousness, and felt that his heart's action was weak. His digestion was so poor his system received no nutriment. He says he commenced the use of this Tonic, taking one tablet after each meal. He did not notice much change after using one box only he enjoyed his meals better, still he kept on until he had used six boxes. He used the last box more than six months ago. When he stopped the use of the Tonic he weighed 28 lbs. more than he did when he commenced. Has not been sick a day since, and is well in both mind and body. Dr. Gunn's Blood & Nerve Tonic is the best medicine in the world for pale, weak or sickly women. Sold by all druggists for 75c per box, or sent by mail on receipt of price. Write us about your case. Address Dr. Gunn, Philadelphia, Pa. For sale by Mathews Drug Co.

The board of control of Minnesota's insane asylums has ordered large quantities of chewing gum for the use of the asylum inmates. It is said that nothing is more soothing and quieting to those who are violently insane than to give them a piece of gum to chew.

The Commoner.

(Mr. Bryan's Paper.)

The Commoner has attained within six months from date of the first issue a circulation of 100,000 copies, a record probably never equaled in the history of American periodical literature. The unparalleled growth of this paper demonstrates that there is room in the newspaper field for a national paper devoted to the discussion of political, economic and social problems. To the columns of The Commoner Mr. Bryan contributes his best efforts; and his review of political events as they arise from time to time can not fail to interest those who study public questions.

The Commoner's regular subscription price is $1.00 per year. We have arranged with Mr. Bryan whereby we can furnish his paper and THE DISPATCH together for one year for $3.25. The regular subscription price of the two papers when subcribed for separately is $3.50.

The life saving crew had a drill on the bay Tuesday in their fine 8-ton life boat. A light breeze was blowing and the boat acted well and readily yielded to the will of the crew. Quite a number witnessed the launching and practice from the wharf, which was quite interesting. Capt. Smith, supported by an able crew, is ready for any emergency, and hereafter a night in the rigging or on an adjacent island will not be known to local history.

Mrs. H. Ainslie left Wednesday on the steamer Brooklyn for San Francisco, from which place she will proceed to Seattle to visit for some time. Mrs. Ainslie was accompanied by her grandson, John Collins, who spent a week in this place, the home of his childhood.

A Remarkable Record

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has a remarkable record. It has been in use for over thirty years, during which time many million bottles have been sold and used. It has long been the standard and main reliance in the treatment of croup in thousands of homes, yet during all this time no case has ever been reported to the manufacturers in which it failed to effect a cure. When given as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even as soon as the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack. It is pleasant to take, many children like it. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as an adult. For sale by J. R. Mathews' Drug Co.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

Some of the Newest Things In Furniture For the Porch.

The furnishing of porches demands almost as much attention now as interior furnishings, and, to judge by appearances, never did Americans attach so much importance to time spent on the porch as they do in this season of 1903.

Reed and wicker furniture of suitable design simply abounds, and a perfect treasure for lazy folks will be found in a cozy wicker or rattan contrivance which closely imitates the good old steamer chairs so much enjoyed by ocean travelers. There is the same back, sloping at precisely the right angle; the same comfortable little hump to support the knees. It is really ideal. The only thing is that unless every member of the family owned such a chair divisions might arise over the question of possession. What is one chair when five or six people want to sit in it at the same time?

There are also rattan lounges and settees of wonderful construction. They are equipped with so many convenient shelves and other devices to contain little comforts, such as smoking paraphernalia, books, embroidery work, etc., that one may employ oneself for hours without ever rising to reach for anything.

To Help the Cook.

There is no end to the new inventions which are designed to make the life of the cook easier. Among these novelties are a chocolate grater, which uses up every bit of the chocolate while protecting the hand, and a jelly strainer, which sets on a tripod and is adjustable to a kettle of any size. Coffee machines by which coffee is made at the table have leaped into popularity. There is a new meat chopper, which has a deep, curved blade that gives eleven inches of cut and is warranted always to cut across the meat. As the top is removable the blade can easily be cleaned. The ring mold, which is simply an ice cream mold made in the form of a ring with an open center, is especially popular where a woman has to rely on her own hands for dainty dishes. A cake pan with a bottom that comes off, allowing the cake to be taken out easily, and a cork extractor which fastens to the wall and holds the bottle while removing the cork are other new kitchen utensils.

Pungent Odors From Vegetables.

If a knife used to cut onions retains the odor of the vegetable take it into the back yard and run it into the earth several times. Most housekeepers keep a separate stewpan for cooking onions, since more or less of their pungency is apt to linger about a dish in which they have been boiled unless, as is too seldom the case with the dish washer, especial care is taken in their cleansing. A supply of sal soda near at hand will stimulate the maid's ambition to keep her utensils clean, since it readily softens extraneous matter, saving time and effort, besides serving as a deodorizer. Custards or any other dish with milk as a foundation readily absorbs the flavor left by the cooking of pungent vegetables. A double boiler and a baking dish should be set aside for such purposes and employed in no other way. It is attention to these small details that is to a large degree accountable for the reputation of good cooking.

Haircloth Revival.

Haircloth is coming into favor again for upholstery purposes, but not in the funereal tone in which it flourished for so many decades before the progress in decorative art consigned it to oblivion so far as furniture covering is concerned. Dark green, terra cotta and other restful shades in figured effects are now being used as covering for library or dining room furniture in colonial or Chippendale designs. Haircloth possesses the advantage of being clean and durable, and in its new guise it is no less artistic than serviceable.

Deviled Eggs.

To make deviled eggs shave a quarter of a pound of rich cheese very fine. Butter a shallow earthen baking dish; spread the cheese in the bottom with bits of butter; sprinkle with salt and paprika. Break six eggs, one at a time, over the cheese, being careful not to break the yolks. Stir into half a cup of cream one teaspoonful of mixed mustard and pour over the eggs. Set in oven for ten minutes. Serve hot.

Remove the Paper.

Never put butter, meat or any other edible away in the paper in which it comes from the store. Think a moment of the deleterious substances which go to the composition of paper—wood pulp, rags, glue, acid and chemicals. It is obvious that these should not be allowed to come in contact with food.

STARTLED

By some sudden sound she drops the vase upon the floor. She is nervous and may be told that nervousness is a luxury which only a rich woman can afford to indulge in. Nervousness has cost many a woman her position. Sometimes when women run machinery the price of nervousness is mutilation,—a finger lost or perhaps the whole hand crushed.

Nervousness in women is commonly but a symptom of womanly disease. It is useless in such cases to "doctor" for the nerves alone. Cure the diseases which attack the delicate womanly organism and nervousness will be cured also.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong, sick women well. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It tranquilizes the nerves and induces refreshing sleep.

"In the fall of 1897, I was troubled with nervousness, headache, heart trouble and female weakness," writes Miss Blanch M. Bracey, of R.F.D. Oswego Co., N. Y. "Last summer I wrote you and you advised me to try your 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I did so and I began to improve rapidly. Continued taking the medicine, half a dozen each of 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery' for the space of five months, and in less than a year had regained my former health."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets clear the muddy complexion.

THE NEW LIVE STOCK COMPANY

The truth of the old saying, "Go away from home to learn the news," is again exemplified. For several weeks past our county clerk and county assessor have been in receipt of communications from the East, especially from Arkansas, inquiring for facts concerning the property and business of the California Cattle and Land company, said to be doing business in Mendocino county. The officers courteously replied that nothing was known of such a company here nor was the name of such a company to be found on the assessment roll. It appears, however, that there is a company of that name, and that stock therein is being offered for sale in Arkansas on the easy terms of $1 a share, payable in installments of 25 cents. There are 150,000 shares of stock 74,000 of which are held in the treasury and 76,000 issued for sale. The company is organized under the laws of Arizona.

In a folder or prospectus, the assets of the company are valued at $104,010, consisting of land, improvements and live stock. The officers of the company are stated to be: President, E. D. Baker; vice-president, J. F. Nickels; secretary, M. A. French; J. Rupley.

We note in the Little Lake Herald of August 12th that one E. D. Baker is proving up on a timber claim in tp 23 n, r 14 w, m d m, and J. F. Nickels and J. Rupley are his witnesses.

The only facts in the matter that are known here are that the records show that on July 23, 1903, E. D. Baker deeded the land in question, 6795 acres, to the California Cattle and Land company. This deed says it is the same land conveyed to said E. D. Baker by C. Q. Nelson and Lot D. Norton, July 1, 1900. A careful examination of the records shows that no deed to that or any other land was made to E. D. Baker on July 1, 1900.

The record does show that Baker received a deed from Lot D. Norton dated July 24, 1903, and another deed from C. Q. Nelson, dated August 5, 1903. Both these deeds are dated subsequent to the date of the deed of Baker to the California Cattle and Land company. We understand that Mr. Nelson was very much surprised when he found that his land had been deeded to the Cattle and Land company by a man to whom he himself had never deeded it. The record further shows that the Cattle and Land company mortgaged all its property to the California Central Trust company to secure the payment of principal and interest of bonds, on July 23, 1903, and again on August 5, 1903, mortgaged all its land to C. Q. Nelson for the sum of $10,666.44 as security for the payment of part of the purchase price of the land.

Then appears a recorded instrument whereby the California Cattle and Land company and the Central Trust company acknowledge that the mortgage of August 5th to C. Q. Nelson is a prior lien upon the land, and is to take precedence of all rights or claims of either corporation. This instrument is duly recorded, of date August 5, 1903, and is signed by the Cattle and Land company, E. D. Baker, president, but is not signed by the Central Trust company. It is a curious matter taken all together. The land in question has been known as the Traver & Nelson land in the Blue Rock section.

A Great Agency

We Have Secured Control for This City of the Fulton Compounds, the Only Things Known to Medicine That Cure Kidney Diseases in Both the Primary and Secondary Stages.

The kidneys are not sensitive and the disease is sometimes fastened and already chronic with the very first symptoms. If it has hung on eight to ten months it is surely chronic. In either case why take chances? Why not take at first the only thing known that cures kidney disease in the chronic as well as the primary stages. The Pell case cited below, by permission, is especially valuable, for its incurability was doubly confirmed by consulting physicians, and after recovery under the Fulton Compounds the recovery was also doubly attested.

On May 1st, 1902, the son of R. C. Pell, the manager of the Pacific Coast Biscuit Company of Second and Folsom streets, San Francisco, was declared by the family physician to have chronic kidney disease and incurable. Another physician was called in and confirmed the diagnosis. The whole body was swollen with dropsy, and a fatal termination looked for. The Fulton Compounds were then turned to as the only hope. On September 15 the dropsy had disappeared and the boy was well, and after double examinations the physician declared the recovery complete and gave Mr. Pell a written report which he now has.

Judge G. A. Cabaniss, the Police Judge of San Francisco, also attests the recovery under his own observation of a friend of his who also recovered when the case (chronic Bright's Disease of the kidneys) was well known to be incurable according to all medical authorities.

Up to the advent of the Fulton Compounds medicine knew nothing that would cure kidney troubles after they became chronic. About nine-tenths of all cases are now curable, even after they have developed into the dreaded chronic forms of Bright's Disease and diabetes. No statements are published or invited except from chronic cases that, like the above, are incurable by all other known medicines. If your kidney trouble is recent Fulton's Renal Compound will cure it quickly. If it is of over eight to ten months standing it is the only thing known that will save your life. John J. Fulton Co., 409 Washington street, San Francisco, sole compounders. Fulton's Renal Compound for Bright's and Kidney Diseases, $1; for Diabetes, $1.50. Free analysis made for patients. ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

Some Suggestions as to the Care of Kitchen Utensils.

Wooden spoons, which are a great boon to the housewife, should be scrubbed with a brush and dried in the sun. The habit of placing wooden utensils in dishwater and letting them soak brings ruination in its wake, and drying them in the range warps them and renders them unsightly if not entirely useless.

Wash the clothes hamper with a solution of salt water, using a fresh brush. Rinse in clear water and dry in the shade.

Brooms will last longer and perform their service better if occasionally dipped in boiling water and left to dry in the open air. The broom should stand in the water until it cools, as the fiber absorbs the moisture and is thereby rendered less brittle.

Wooden bowls if rubbed thoroughly with glycerin until they are soaked will not crack. If washed in a hot solution of bicarbonate of soda and dried in the open air the unpleasant odor which wooden utensils are apt to have will be done away with.

Hongkong Chairs For the Piazza.

Hongkong chairs are delightful for a lounge or a rest in a cool corner of a broiling hot afternoon.

These are patterned much of a kind with "steamer chairs," with the extension piece to hold the feet up. There are comfortable arm rests, much broader than the little slipper arms of the regular steamer chair. You could stand a glass of lemonade, a book or a plate of biscuit on the broad arms of the chair.

Instead of being flat along the seat there is a little rise beneath the knees on this chair. Another agreeable detail is the foot rest at the end. This has a raised border high enough to keep your wraps or shawls from slipping off the end, and it also supports the feet and braces the body comfortably.

Hongkongs are not folding chairs. There need be no fear of the foot rest slipping down. They are made of brownish wicker, very strong, and may be fitted with orange, brown, sea green, dark blue or reddish copper hued cushions. Naturally a Hongkong chair is somewhat expensive.

Bread and Cakes.

All breads and cakes must be very light and porous to be digestible, and batter breads or cakes must be especially light and delicate to be enjoyed. While eggs, baking powder and yeast are used for this purpose, much depends on the amount and thoroughness of the beating they receive. The object should be to force in as much air as possible, especially in the thick batter, in order to separate the solid particles and give an evenness of grain. While a batter may be made thick enough to drop from a spoon and keep its shape on a griddle or baking tin, it is too soft to knead. The liquid used in a batter should be added to the dry ingredients and stirred in gradually to prevent the batter becoming lumpy.

Care of Matting.

Matting never should be subjected to an oversupply of water. Care should be exercised toward keeping it unstained. When it becomes soiled, however, use a soft cloth well wrung out in a suds made of borax soap and water and air thoroughly by leaving a window open until the spot is dried. Dampness must be removed from matting as speedily as possible. Use a pliable, not too stiff, broom for matting. Always sweep well first any flooring or floor covering which may be spotted or soiled and needs a damp application.

Oiling and Drying Floors.

In oiling the floor with linseed oil use a half gallon of boiled linseed oil mixed with a quarter of a pound of burned sienna, and rub it on the floor with a large woolen rag. A strong decoction of the inside of red oak bark set with copperas makes a nice dye for floors. After rubbing it in thoroughly and letting it dry rub the floor with a waxed brush.

Beefsteak and Onions.

A delicate variation of the somewhat coarse dish, beefsteak and onions, is achieved by rolling three or four chopped onions in a beefsteak, tying securely and leaving the beefsteak overnight in the ice box. Remove the onions and broil, turning frequently. The onions may be fried separately if desired and served as a side dish to those who like them.

White Wood Furniture.

White enameled furniture in complete sets is lovely decorated with clusters and garlands of roses with buds half blown and foliage that suggests a riot of garden bloom. Of course many furnishers cling to the brass and enameled iron beds, but the white woods are more elegant.

HE DIDN'T REPORT.

Colonel Mills, superintendent of the West Point academy, has a reputation for sternness even among army men. Years ago, when he first took command of the post at Buffalo, he found that station extremely lax in discipline, and it was no secret among his friends that he proposed to work some reforms. Shortly after his installation he was one day annoyed by the receipt of a telegram from a subordinate off on a furlough which read, "Will not report today, as expected, account unavoidable circumstances."

The tone of the message was not at all to Colonel Mills' mind, and he wired at once in reply, "Report as expected or give reasons."

Within an hour the following message came over the wires, dated from a hospital in New York:

"Train off; can't ride. Legs off; can't walk. Will not report unless you insist."

The colonel did not insist.

Mrs. Fish's Thrust.

Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish has such an assured place in society that she does not hesitate to tell of her husband's early struggles with the world. In fact, she is rather fond of doing so. While in Nice last spring she related at a dinner party how Mr. Fish worked his way up to the presidency of the Illinois Central railroad. A German princeling, who was among the guests, remarked, with just the trace of a sneer, "I had always heard that your husband came from a fine family." Mrs. Fish met this thrust with perfect good nature. "Oh, yes, he does. But, you see, in America it is not a disgrace to work. How much better it would be if those conditions prevailed in Europe? We in America would be spared so many titled nonentities."

It Was a Beautiful Day Anyway.

A Scotch surgeon during the Boer war was celebrated for the stories he told. One of them was related to the men lying near him in a hot corner on the veldt during a battle. As the bullets were whistling among them the surgeon observed in an easy way, "Well, it's been a beautiful day anyway." The man next him laughed and asked why he made that remark. "Did you ever hear the story of the two Scotchmen?" the surgeon answered. "They were going home very drunk together, and the one said to the other, 'Weel, Donald, we've had a beautiful day, but what bothers me is that I canna remember what like the bride was.' 'Whist, man,' said his friend, 'it wisna a merriage. It wis a fun'ral.'"

Real Fame.

Ex-Vice President Levi P. Morton, who takes great pleasure in his estate on the Hudson and makes common subject with his neighbors of agriculture and the raising of cattle, was once identified, to the amusement of a Washingtonian, by his agricultural attainments.

The Morton carriage whirled through the village street one afternoon quite near where the Washingtonian and a farmer were standing.

"That's Vice President Morton, isn't it?" inquired the Washingtonian.

"Vice president nothing!" was the reply. "Ever heard of Morton's cows? Well, that's Morton!" — Philadelphia Ledger.

A Qualified Judge.

The New York Rialto is laughing over a story told on Will Carleton, the poet, who is also a publisher. The other day he appeared at his office in a new coat, which he hung up. It fell to the dusty floor. The office boy picked the garment up without brushing it and helped Mr. Carleton put it on. Catching a glimpse of his own disreputable appearance in a mirror, the poet thundered: "Boy, what do you mean by this? I come in here looking like a publisher, and you send me out looking like an author!"

Going the Rounds.

The Saline County (Kan.) Index thinks it has discovered a new endless chain. "Every farmer boy," it observes, "wants to be a schoolteacher, every schoolteacher hopes to be an editor, every editor would like to be a banker, every banker would like to be a trust magnate, and every trust magnate hopes some day to own a farm and have chickens and cows and pigs and horses to look after. We end where we begin."

A Painful Disease.

Newitt—The after effects of the grip, they say, are worse than most other diseases.

Slopay—That's about right. I had the grip last winter, and it's making trouble for me now, I tell you.

Newitt—Why, you're not in the hands of the doctor now?

Slopay—No. I'm in the hands of the doctor's lawyer now.—Philadelphia Press.

Ink Blots.

There is an old game revived for the amusement of grown people and children alike that is very amusing.

Each person places drops of ink on a sheet of paper and then folds the paper with the drops inside; the ink spreads and forms pictures, or, at least, imaginative persons find pictures in the blots, the guests are asked to guess what figure the persons who placed the drops of ink intended the blot to make, and prizes are given to the persons making the largest number of correct guesses.

LABOR DAY AND THE RIGHTS OF LABOR

Last Monday was National Labor Day and in every city in the country from the lakes to the gulf, from ocean to ocean, where labor is unionized, the toilers celebrated the day appropriately. It is estimated that over 4,000,000 laboring men were in line in the various parades thruout the country. In every instance the men were among the best law abiding citizens of the community and conducted the exercises with dignity. The writer was in San Francisco on the occasion and observed the parade. The men in line were intelligent, honest and upright and bore the impress of respectability in their very faces. There were fully 40,000 men in line in the two parades and there was not a single drunk man in the procession, nor a vile word uttered. That spoke volumes indeed, and the sympathy of the crowds along the street was quite evidently with the toilers. The laboring man is the bone and sinew of the country. It is to him the nation owes its existence. In the darkest hour of grim war, when the ranks on sea or shore need recruiting, who is it that responds to duty's call and fills up the gap? It is the toiler—the farmer, the merchant, the mechanic—the common people, if you please, the laboring people! The struggling poor should have the same right to live as those who are powerful and mighty. The honest farmer living away up in the valley among the hills should have the same protection as the rich magnate in his marble mansion on Central avenue. And the laboring man should receive the same consideration as the president of the biggest trust. But he doesn't.

Long years ago the "captains of industry" formed a union, or a trust, and have had things pretty much their own way ever since. They robbed the people and oppressed labor, and made millions. Now labor is getting onto itself and by means of organized unions is enabled to act in unison. The poor are in the majority, and if they will be decent, law abiding and "stand pat" their rights will be respected. Every man has a right to do as he pleases so long as he remains within the law. He has the same right to join a union as he has to join a lodge or a church. It's for him to decide. It's no one else's business. Capital has unionized. Labor has the same right. This, of course, capital will deny and do its utmost to prevent. But the toilers will win out in the long run if they will show the mass of people that they are honest, upright and law abiding citizens, and against mob rule and violence.

AGAIN our attention is called to an alleged new discovery in science. On September 2d Professor Percival Lewis, of the University of California, gave out for publication the results of three years of experiment, by which it is claimed he proves that the atomic theory of matter, which was adopted about the middle of the last century, is false. It is now said that the Roentgen ray and the discovery of radium have upset that time-honored theory. Prof. Lewis' announcement comes nearly half a century late. Nearly that long ago A. Wilford Hall, of New York, boldly announced and proved, challenging the scientific world to show the contrary, that there were no such things as atoms, and that all matter is homogeneous. He was scoffed at by so-called scientists, but time is proving he was right in that as well as many of his other bold and revolutionary statements in the field of science. A. Wilford Hall is dead, but many eminent scientists are just now claiming discoveries which he made thirty to fifty years ago, without giving him the credit that is due him. Not long ago we read of an explosion which shattered the windows of surrounding buildings for a great distance. It was noticed that in every instance the glass fell on the outside of the buildings and not on the inside, as one would naturally suppose under the current teachings of science. More than twenty-five years ago Dr. Hall announced in his publications that such a result would follow a heavy explosion, and offered to pay for the explosion to make the test. He at that time gave the scientific reason why it must be so, but scientists who travel in a rut worn by predecessors ignored him. We venture the assertion that in less than fifty years nearly all the scientific theories now taught in the schools with relation to force, motion, light, heat, sound, electricity, etc., will have given way to the revolutionary, but far more scientific, system evolved by A. Wilford Hall.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT left Oyster Bay last Sunday for Syracuse, N. Y., to formally open the state fair and deliver a Labor Day address. It is said that extraordinary precautions were taken to guard the President from assault while on the journey and at Syracuse. As many as three hundred armed detectives and policemen were detailed to surround the President and keep the people under surveillance. In the street parade they were to watch everybody, even the women looking out of the third and fourth-story windows. It was not always so. The time was when an American President could go about among the people without fear, the same as a private citizen. And we believe he could do it now. If not, it is because of that spirit of force, of tyranny, of disregard for law and constitutional liberty which has been fostered by the Republican leaders ever since the days of Abraham Lincoln. And there's another thing: The spirit which prompts the surrounding of a ruler with armed men to guard his person fosters the growth of anarchy and suggests to fanatics the perpetration of crime. And there's still another thing. If any man has made up his mind to kill the President, he can find opportunity to do so, even if, on public occasions, his Excellency be surrounded by thousands of guards. It smacks too much of military and monarchical government to be always talking about and guarding against prospective physical attacks upon the President.

THE human emotions are excited in various ways, and manifest themselves in curious and sometimes erratic and even hysterical ways entirely foreign to the usual character of the man. Some years ago in Eureka, Humboldt county, there was a carnival, prior to which there was a voting contest for carnival queen. The two leading candidates were one a Catholic and the other a protestant young lady. The protestants won, and the result was curious. The victors went wild in their rejoicing. We are told by a man who was present that most of the "hard cases" in town joined the Salvation Army, and the steady-going old fellows went and got drunk. We once saw two old, gray-haired farmers, each the father of a dozen grown children, get right out in the middle of a city street in the main business quarter, join hands and dance round and round in a muddy place for several minutes like a couple of lunatics or drunks, so great was their joy over the news of a decision of the late Judge Sawyer on the hydraulic mining question.

MOSES led the children of Israel thru the wilderness for forty years, and at last he was only permitted to stand on Pisgah's top and view the promised land, flowing with milk and honey. For forty years General Will S. Green has been trying to lead the grandfathers, fathers and children of Colusa and Glenn counties out of the comparative desert of dry plains into a land of tropical productiveness and luxuriance by means of Central canal. Now the grand old man is getting glimpses of the promised land—the fruition of his nearly half a century of tireless hope. For soon the life-giving water will flow over the broad acres of the plains, and Brother Green will see one great purpose of his life accomplished. So mote it be.

The superior court of Shasta county has knocked a good sized hole in a practice which has long been in vogue in many incorporated towns. We refer to the practice of giving "floaters" to men, mainly tramps, arrested for drunkenness or vagrancy. The custom is to fine these men about $10 or an equal number of days in jail, and then give them "floaters," or permission to leave town with a warning not to return to that city. The Shasta court has, as it seems to us very properly, decided that a man does time on a vagrancy sentence just the same on a "floater" as if he were in jail. If the authorities choose to let him spend the time of his sentence outside of prison by banishing him to some other locality, he has the legal right to return when the time for which he was sentenced shall have expired, and he cannot be molested on the previous charge. This is good law and good common sense. This thing of passing vagrants on to the next station is wrong in principle any way. If they are not guilty of crime or misdemeanor they should not be arrested, and if they are guilty they should be made to pay the penalty. There is no such thing as banishment known to our penal code.

To employ the mind in searching for the universal is the part of wisdom. Too many spend their lives in searching for the particular, ignoring the fact that the universal encloses the particular. It is by finding the universal that we discover the immutable, or the great law which controls all, and produces cause and effect. As we penetrate the mysteries of the universal the particular becomes easy of comprehension and ceases to be matter of vexatious inquiry. A lawyer, who is truly learned in the law, no longer frets over mere technicalities.

The negro slave owners in the South in ante bellum days were much abused up north because now and then a rumor floated up that way by the grapevine line that some slave had been treated inhumanely by his owner. Our government bot 10,000,000 Filipino "niggers" at $2 a head, proceeded at once to kill several hundred thousand of them and is starving a large number of the balance, but that's all right. They come cheap and we can better afford to kill than to boss them, especially as we expect to administer on their estates.

It is stated that Secretary of the Navy Moody will soon retire from the president's cabinet, and that Senator Perkins, of California, will be tendered the naval portfolio.

Albion News

ALBION, Sept. 6.—As the "Albion Sport" is taking a much-needed vacation and will be absent for two or three weeks, we will try and send in a few items.

This vicinity was benefitted by a nice shower of rain Saturday, which will lay the dust for a few days.

C. B. Plummer, agent for the Fort Bragg hospital, is spending a few days in our little burg.

Albion is about the liveliest little place along the coast, steamers coming and going, the shingle mill running full blast, the large locomotive running day and night, and everything is working in tiptop shape.

The basket social given Saturday night for the benefit of the church, was a great success, games being the chief amusement of the evening. Everybody reported having a good time.

Miss Lena West, accompanied by Miss Mabel Miller, of Greenwood, visited Albion last Wednesday.

The South Side seems quite attractive for Clarence on Sundays.

C. A. Norberry, president of the labor union at this place, has resigned and he left last Monday for Sonoma county, where he is to take the position of head carpenter at Bender Brothers' mill. The union is sorry to lose Charley, for he made a good president.

Miss Annie Mooen, of Fort Bragg, visited friends at this place last Sunday.

Alfred Thompson, formerly of this place, who has been in Oakland for the last six years, is back on the coast again, greeting relatives and friends.

Rumors are afloat that wedding bells will soon ring on Huckleberry ridge.

Mrs. N. E. Rowe returned Sunday from Greenwood, where she has been visiting relatives and friends for the past week.

Alex Carlson, of Elk, was seen on on streets Sunday. Us Two.

LABOR DAY AT FORT BRAGG

FORT BRAGG, Sept. 8—Labor Day was celebrated at this place on Monday by the members of the labor unions on the coast. The morning was devoted to foot races and bicycle racing. In the afternoon there was a parade thru the streets and literary exercises in the park. Delegations from the labor unions of Fort Bragg, Gualala, Albion, Mendocino, Comptche, Caspar, Alpine and Westport took part in the celebration. There were 700 men in line when the procession marched thru the streets with a band at their head, and the banner of each place carried at the head of its delegation. At the park 1500 people crowded the grand stand and grounds to listen to the exercises.

The president and secretary of the Fort Bragg union both made short speeches in which the statements were made that the prospect was good for an early settlement of the strike and that negotiations to that end might come to a successful termination within a week.

The principal addresses of the day were made by T. J. Gallagher and A. J. Bledsoe, the former on "Trade Unions" and the latter on "Capital and Labor." Both speakers received the closest attention.

One noticeable fact about the celebration was the absence of disorder. There was not a drunken man to be seen and no disorder of any kind occurred during the day. The labor unions of this county now have 2230 members and new unions will soon be formed at Willits and Point Arena. Unionism has come to stay.

Hop Crop and Market

From the Waterville, N. Y., Times and Hop Reporter of September 1st we gather that the shortage in the world's hop crop is even greater than was predicted a few months ago. As to the crop in the Waterville district, the most important east of this coast, the Reporter says:

"Just at present the outlook for hops is not the brightest. It has got to that point that in many yards to save any of the crop it will be necessary to pick them at once. In almost all the yards there are spots where the vine is left standing the hops being too poor to pick. Vermin have made disastrous inroads in far too many yards, and growers generally feel that the sooner they get their hops picked the better." A light crop is predicted in any event.

In Washington both mould and red spider are reported. A report from Gervais, Washington, says that in a hop yard near that place hops are nearly black on the inside. The lice had crawled inside the hop burrs and died, thus starting the mould. The crop was considered in a very precarious condition.

In Oregon, according to the Salem Statesman, the crop promised a splendid yield, but the rains came at a time when lice were present and mould already appearing, in some cases to an alarming extent. It was said that in many cases no attempt would be made to save the hops. The Oregonian of August 27th said the fungus had already attacked vines in nearly every district that was not sprayed and adds: "In view of the conditions now prevailing in the yards, it is needless to say that contracting business is at a low ebb." Later reports from Oregon show somewhat improved conditions.

Reports from County Kent, England, are by no means encouraging for a full yield. The Kentish Observer of August 20th said the cold and incessant rain had prevented development and unless a change should come soon the quality as well as the yield must suffer deterioration.

Rare Mining Opportunity

The Friday Gulch Gold Mining Company, having recently made the final payment on their properties at Havilah, Cal., desire to begin active operations on their mines and have offered a limited number of shares at a ground floor figure for this purpose. Remember we neither bond nor lease these mines. We own them and your money goes for development purposes only.

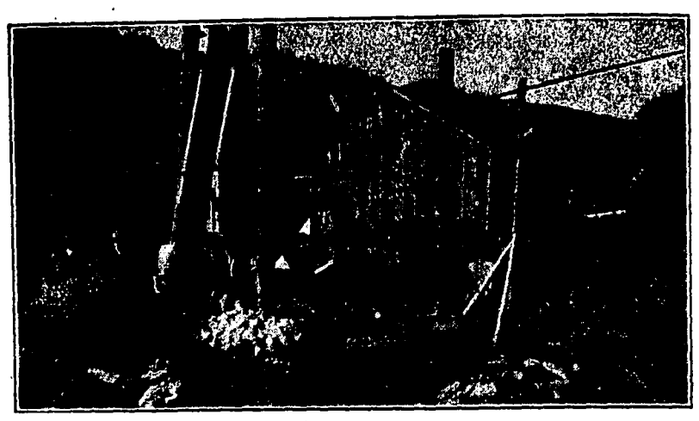
The hot wave which struck us the early part of this week came from southern Oregon.

WHERE THE $100 ORE COMES FROM



View of the Friday Gulch Gold Mining company's principal shaft, which yields ore assaying over $100 per ton. This shaft is now 130 feet deep at which point a cross cut to the Howe ledge, 50 feet distant, opens up another very rich ledge. These ledges give every indication of coming together within the next 250 feet at which point still greater results are expected.

Vice-president C. T. James, who is at present visiting here, is having much success in placing this stock. The proposition is one of unusual merit as the company have their property paid for and will immediately begin active development on a large scale. The mines are located at Havilah, Kern county, in an old and proven district, and are surrounded by large producers.
